

Rainy Season 2010 on Koh Samui

First big rain in this season: 2. November 2010

Of course we were prepared to the flood and we had a lot of sand bags waiting for operation but it never came up that high.
From Tuesday (02.11.) till Friday (05.11.) afternoon we didn't have any electricity and just sometimes a little water from the conduct.

LAEM DIN MARKT

That is the street to our house. The water increased up to nearly 1, 50 meters.

The water rose after taking this picture (during the next hours) up to 50 cm.

During the dogs stood outside in the rain, the cats made themselves comfortable at the bedroom.

Bonzo also didn't have any problems with the rain.....

Because the raining didn't stop, the flood reached a new peak level the next day.
